Senior Product Designer with 14 years of total design experience: most recently 7 years of dedicated UI/UX & Product Design, and 7 years of foundational Graphic & Brand Design. Specializing in B2B SaaS platforms, complex system architecture, and shipping production-ready interfaces alongside engineering teams. Early adopter of modern AI workflows (Claude Code, v0, Antigravity) to bridge design and code. Bilingual (English, Spanish).

Work Experience

Founding Designer @StockApp

Aug 2025 – Mar 2026

An early-stage B2B commerce platform for global trade networks, backed by the StartX/Stanford accelerator. The company closed in March 2026 following an investor decision to wind down operations.

Owned design across most product: Catalog, Directory, Orders, Offers, Messaging, and an AI assistant (Stoki) - end to end, from first wireframe to shipped features

Achievements

- Redesigned Stoki (AI Assistant) from a full-screen blocking overlay to a persistent floating and dynamic widget, letting users access AI features without interrupting their workflow, and adapting to content dynamically
- Led UX for the Directory section: connection management, purchasing permissions, payment terms, and buyer identity validation (BPID)
- Enhanced the product catalog experience: product layout and consistency, performance data in product detail view, and an interactive 3D Ecosystem for visualizing the user's network and reach
- Submitted pull requests directly to the production codebase for UI fixes and feature implementation using VS Code and Claude Code
- Created StockApp's Design System: Built on top of shadcn, Figma components and variables, JSON tokens for front-end team.
- Platform reached hundreds of active users and facilitated hundreds of thousands of dollars in B2B transactions within its first months (specific numbers protected by NDA)

Senior Product Designer @FullStack Labs (Client: GoDaddy)

Jan 2022 – Jul 2025

FullStack Labs is a nearshore software consultancy serving over 600 companies. One of them being GoDaddy, one of the world's largest platforms for entrepreneurs, offering everything from domain registration and web hosting to online stores, payments, and marketing tools.

I was assigned to GoDaddy as a Senior Product Designer, joining their Commerce org within the Orders & Fulfillment and Unified Commerce teams.

Achievements

- Designed and tested a shipping label purchase flow — 7,500 labels purchased by 6,000+ active merchants within 3 months of launch
- Shipped 10+ features for Unified Catalog, enabling merchants to manage products, categories, and taxes across Commerce and Online Store cohorts
- Increased mobile usability for the Orders dashboard by introducing a Compact View data table, validated by a 70% user preference rate in UsabilityHub testing
- Redesigned Order Details UI with new history timeline, customer notes at line item and order level, and clear status visualization that improved UX for 5,000+ monthly active sellers
- Contributed an Empty State component to Commerce's design system, used by 50+ designers across the org
- Design QA on Unified Catalog — 39 issues identified, 17 of them resolved within 2 weeks

Senior Digital Designer @QuestionPro

Jan 2019 – Dec 2021

Global SaaS platform for surveys, market research, and employee engagement. Founded in Seattle, WA in 2005, QuestionPro has grown to over 5.3 million customers worldwide, with 8 regional data centers and more than 10 billion questions answered to date.

Promoted to the global team after 2 years in LATAM. Owned web design for QuestionPro US, and global brand and marketing design across LATAM, MENA, APAC, and GmbH regions

Achievements

- Redesigned credit card checkout: bounce rate down 9.52% within one quarter
- Built a website design system that was later translated into templates, cutting page production time from 3 months to 1 month (–66%) and kept a consistent design language
- Updated signup flow: Since QuestionPro had multiple products, the signup page had to highlight the key features while guiding users to the correct experience. Sales team reported significantly better qualified leads post-launch

- Designed brand identity for all product lines and event branding for Xday including logotype, responsive site, full marketing suite
- Led a team of 2 designers for web, marketing, and sales assets

Senior Graphic Designer @QuestionPro LATAM

Feb 2017 – Dec 2018

The Latin American division of QuestionPro, launched to position the platform as the go-to survey solution in the region by offering native language support at a more accessible price point. A fast-growing team with the energy of a startup inside a global SaaS company

Lead graphic designer within the marketing team. Designed web content, HTML/CSS email campaigns, event materials, slides, and the corporate mascot that is still in use
